REACH THE SPOT.

To cure an aching back,
The pains of rheumatism,
The tired-out feelings,
You must reach the spot—get at the cause.

In most cases 'tis the kidneys.
Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys.

Charles Bierbach, stone contractor, living at 2325 Chestnut St. Erie, Pa.,
says:

"For two years I had kidney trouble, and there was such a severe pain through my loins and limbs that I could not stoop or straighten up without great pain, had difficulty in getting about and was unable to rest at night, arising in the morning tired and worn out. The kidney secretions were irregular and a heavy deposit of uric acid was formed. Doctors treated me for rheumatism, but failed to help me. I lost all confidence in medicine, but Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me so quickly and so thoroughly that I gladly made a statement to that effect for publication. This was in 1898, and during the six years which have elapsed I have never known Doan's Kidney Pills to fail."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Bierbach will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address: Foster-McLennan Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price, 50 cents per box.

A Political Nightmare.

The Presidential Campaign of 1908 and the political parties in our land are ready for action and have taken their stand.

With vigor and courage each one to face, To contend for the power in this political race. Republicans, Democrats, Prohibitionists too, Socialists, labor men are all in this stew. They have politics seething now in a pot. To feed to the voters—when it is hot.

Political orators are now at the head. Millions of voters will partake of this bread. And their defeat when the campaign is through.

Tariff and free trade are on our brain, And the Almighty dollar excites us again; With politics, have begun to tickle our ears. Political orators, laymen not a few, Are armed for this conflict and have something to do.

With one eye on our money the other on trusts, The value of our money we must adjust. Capital and labor we must regulate too, For we are afraid of a strike that perhaps is a head.

We must settle these troubles that we all do dread. Calm all these troubles before they arise, And the Almighty dollar excites us again; Rum may be plenty in this campaign, And money will elect the man who shall reign.

To buy thousands of votes with the money they get; More money on the people has to be laid, Higher salaries to officers now must be paid. Another question that stirs the men of our Government ownership of railroad and telephones.

Our congress at Washington should legislate And own all these lines in every state. The canal at Panama so long delayed, It is a matter of money we must keep in view.

Reciprocity with them we ought to renew. We want to get of this world all we can get. So to do this we ought to elect the right man; To buy the finest merchant ships that ever were made.

If we get of this world our share of the trade, And have the largest navy it we hold our command. And we have our rights on the ocean as we do on land. We must have the biggest battleships that sail anywhere, And also thousands of airplanes to sail through the air.

Toons and tons of explosives ready at hand To blow to smithereens the war ships before they can land; We have the largest guns that ever were cast, And wireless machines that will reach the stars. We are the greatest Nation that is on this earth, We have always been that from the day of our birth.

When the Panama canal through the isthmus is made, And a railroad across Behring Straits is built, Around this world our power will sweep, Then the Old World's rulers may bow at our feet.

Mexico, South America and the Isles of the sea Will then be a part of this land of the free; The world will be ours, and we will be free. All races of earth will then be at peace. They never again can get into a broil. The United States owns all the soil.

The storm, Webster, will then be a thing of the past. The stars and the stripes will be the flag of the world. Millions of voters in this campaign were seen, And portrayed near the poet in this political dream.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure it, local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, made by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 to 20 drops. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Trouble at the Mory Farm.
There has been much trouble at the Mory farm for several years from tuberculosis and Mr. Mory has decided to clean it all out. It was placed in care of Messrs. Auburn and the State commission and by their orders fifteen head of cattle and horses were all high blood Jerseys, part of them purchased by H. M. Tucker (former manager at the farm) at a high price, cows two to seven hundred dollars. One bull cost four hundred and has been first prize at the State fair. They will build their litters all over, fumigate and thoroughly cleanse the barns.

Roscoe and Percy Cox were at their farm, Sunday.
George Tyner lost a horse last week with spinal meningitis.

George Tyner is visiting his parents and friends at Arlington, Mass.

Mrs. Fannie D. March of Auburn visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Denning, and her sister, Mrs. H. H. Hall, Saturday and Sunday.

It looks like the "good old times" to see the True farm team of eight large oxen hitched up in one team. There are also eight three-year-old Hereford steers in the barn, besides.

H. M. Tucker, formerly at the Mory farm, has accepted a situation at Ellsworth farm, South Poland, owned now by E. F. Gifford of Boston. Mrs. Tucker was the guest of Mrs. J. H. King, Sunday.

J. G. Tyler of the Hillborn farm has moved to his farm at West Paris. He has hay there to be consumed, apples to dispose of and wood and lumber to be sold. Expects to return here in the summer.

Issaac O. Barnes.

Isaac O. Barnes, the sketch of whom was published last week, was the author, says, not a fictitious personage. He was a noted lawyer in New Hampshire. He was born within a few miles of the home of the great OVERSTON editor and many are the anecdotes the people there tell of him and his witty sayings. The following rhyme along the same line as the sketch by Chas. W. Stevens is very familiar in that vicinity:

A job for the fellows last into him sped,
Very large, very fat, very fond of a spree;
Very fond of his glass, very fond of his smoke,
But fonder by far than all these of his joke.

To a political barbeque Isaac once went,
And with other good fellows the day gaily spent.
In eating and drinking, that did not agree With the spacious interior of Isaac O. B.

For on arriving at home and going to bed
With stomach over loaded and a very light head,
He was soon taken ill and so short was his breath,
He thought he was called by the grim angel of death.

He sent for a doctor renowned for his skill,
Who hearing that Isaac was fatally ill,
Did not come to the house, but into him sped,
And found the old gentleman groaning in bed.

With feet very hot and face very red,
And trying out, "Surely I soon shall be dead,
To tell how I suffer I have not got breath,
O doctor," groaned Isaac, "I'm stricken by death."

"This plain you must suffer," the doctor said,
"But you are a long, long way from death,
Be all right, your pulse is strong,
No man ever died with life like your warm."

"I know of a case," said Isaac O. B.,
"So your case does not at all reassure me,
I know of a case and his name I'll repeat,
John Rogers, the martyr, he died with warm feet."

Keen Local Interest In L. T. Cooper's Work

At Present Time Young Man Is Much In The Public Eye of a Busy City.

F. P. Stone, the Local Agent, Receives Many Inquiries Regarding Mr. Cooper and His Medicine.

Since his announcement last week that he had secured the local agency for the famous Cooper Remedies, Mr. F. P. Stone has been besieged with inquiries regarding the celebrated Mr. Cooper and the work he is now doing in Chicago. In response to the expressed desire of many persons for more news regarding this remarkable young man and his medicine, the following is taken from a recent issue of the Chicago Journal:

Still more cases are heard from, and the continued stream of humanity poured into the Public Drug Co., 150 State street, yesterday in search for the remedy for the various ailments of medicine. The demand for these remedies seems to grow larger each day. Thousands of Chicagoans who have suffered for years with chronic stomach trouble, catarrh and rheumatism are being made happy every day by the use of this peculiar remedy sold by Mr. Cooper.

An hour or so spent at the Cooper headquarters would convince the most skeptical person that this new treatment is something entirely different from anything else ever sold. As usual, Mr. Cooper was busy all day receiving kind words and thanks from the hundreds who had been entirely cured by this simple preparation.

Mr. John Schwartz, living at 303 Fifth avenue, had the following to say: "I have had rheumatism for several years, sick at the stomach, felt tired and dull most of the time. I have tried everything I have ever heard of in the way of medicine and found practically no relief. I was advised to try Cooper's New Medicine. I did so, and the result is I am relieved of rheumatism, my stomach does not bother me any, and I have a good appetite—can eat anything I want. I am feeling better than I have for years. I want to say right here that this is the greatest medicine I ever heard of. You may use my name, for I want others who are troubled in the same way to be relieved as I have been."

Another caller was Mr. W. B. Stewart, 109 West Madison street, who said: "I have had stomach trouble for years, and any one who is afflicted in this way knows what an awful distressing feeling it causes. Many a time I have felt that I would give most any price to be cured. It was by accident that I heard of this man Cooper's remedies. I immediately made up my mind to buy a treatment of him. I have been using it about two weeks and it is impossible to tell how much good it has done me. I feel altogether different; I have more life and energy than I have had for years. This medicine certainly does stimulate and strengthen the whole system. The tired feeling and weak condition of the stomach has entirely passed away. I feel well again."

Mr. Cooper said in speaking of the matter: "It usually takes from three to five weeks for people to feel the effects of medicines in such cases. I will have hundreds during the remainder of my stay in this city and thank me for what the medicine has done for them in cases of catarrh, stomach trouble, rheumatism and nervousness. I am always glad to shake hands with persons who have been restored to good health. If there is anything we should appreciate in this life it is good health."

SOUTH RUMFORD.

The McKinley League.
The McKinley School league gave a successful entertainment in J. M. Holland's hall, Saturday evening, March 7. Recitations by Wallace F. Clark, Archie Falarde, Albert Silver, Lewis Falarde and Ethel Ellingwood; songs by 1st grade class. The sunbonnet quadrille and march by eight ladies with their clothes and masks on, wrong side to was very laughable.

The farce, The Sweet Family, presented by Grace Webb, as Ma Sweet and her seven daughters who were Misses Lola Lapham, Albina Falarde, Helen Keene, Nellie Silver, Ethel Ellingwood, Mary Clark and last but by no means least Mrs. Florence Keene, as Gloria, a Gadabout, the youngest daughter and fool of the family a part which she acted to perfection. A box supper with boxes sold at auction finished the entertainment. After the expenses were paid a little over eleven dollars was left for the League.

James F. Putnam is back from the Soldiers' Home, where he has spent the past winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett from the Falls, visited their cousin, John Keene, March 7 and 8.

Stillman Wyman, wife and daughter from North Leeds, recently visited his cousin, M. L. Wyman.

Wallace Clark came home from Turner March 2d. He has been staying with his sister, Mrs. Helen Waterman, since November.

Mrs. Silina Bisbee, whose 93d birthday is in March, has been confined to her bed since last October. She is blind, deaf and nearly helpless.

SOUTH HIRAM.
Alta Merrifield is working at Frank Sargent's.

R. G. Stanley has been to Bangor on a business trip.

H. C. Huntress has his new gasoline engine. We understand he has quite an amount of wood already engaged to saw.

According to the town clerk's report there were 11 births, 16 deaths and 17 marriages recorded during the year just ended.

Mrs. Fred Jameson died recently at Maine General hospital, Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Jameson formerly resided in this town. The remains were taken to Calais, Monday, for burial.

The funeral services of Mrs. Carrie Pendexter, who died Thursday morning, March 6th, were held at the residence, Saturday afternoon, attended by Rev. Mr. Eldridge of Cornish, M. E. church. Mrs. Pendexter leaves a husband and six sons.

GILEAD.
Newell Brothers are still loading cars at the village with pulp wood.

Ezra Carter is loading a car for George E. Leighton of Shelburne, who is engaged in the lumber business.

Mrs. Olive A. Miller of Cherryvale, Kas., recently deceased, was born in Gilead, May 13, 1839. Moved to Gallatin, Mo., in 1867, where she was married to E. L. Miller, May 16, 1868. To this union five children were born. George E., of the firm of Miller & Dack; George E., city mail carrier; Robert N., carrier on rural route; Jennie C., and Mary E., who are at the family home. The family moved to Cherryvale from Burlington, Kas., about 8 years ago and have since made this their home.

EAST OXFORD.
Mrs. John Bridgeham is planning to sell her farm.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. White of Lisbon, visited Mrs. White's father P. J. Billings.

Ida Greely of Paris, has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. John Bridgeham.

Harold Johnson has been very sick with pneumonia, his sister Mrs. Nettie Walker helped care for him.

Mrs. J. P. Penley and Mrs. Ethel B. Thayer went to Lewiston, Saturday. They visited Mrs. Thayer's sister, Mrs. D. S. White, while at Lisbon.

We Hope It Is True.
Mrs. D. Edwin Bennett of Melrose, Mass., in writing of browntail moths says:—

If you will watch sparrows you will see them catch the moth and bite its bustle out and the wings with head will fall to the ground. We have been in the thickest of the fight to conquer the pest and speak from experience, and the sparrows also eat the young caterpillars in the spring.

Flogging in Schools.

About the time the lion and lamb get ready to lie down together—with the lamb inside, of course—the happy period will come when the boys and girls who go to the public schools in America may be able to get along without some form of physical correction. Naturally, the degrees and kinds of correction demanded depend upon the temperament of the child's family as well as upon the character of the child. There are many parents right here who bring up their children and keep them under perfect control without spanking or slapping or any form of physical punishment. "Children of this kind are not of the 'babysish' or the 'spunkless' sort. They may be self-assertive and willful and positively 'aching for a licking,' but their parents took them in hand early and have exercised a form of control over them that has been vigilant, and after a time the youngsters have learned the obedience to requests or commands is the safest and easiest way of getting along.

The foregoing statement is very true and capable of proof to any one who cares to seek facts. It is also very true that a majority of the children who are born into the world receive physical chastisement with more or less frequency and that the punishment actually "does them good." There are children—plenty of them—who react to beatings and floggings by becoming rebellious and defiant, and some who are actually driven to crime by the punishment. On the contrary, they are often the brightest among those who attend our schools—lovable, headstrong and daredevil—urchins, who are perpetually fluctuating between trying to be physically good and as wickedly bad as possible.

Those among us who were too old to go to school years ago recall the birch with the ferule and the leather strap filled with cruel holes, with something that the chances are that he will never again feel so painful and not at all pleasing to take. But we used to draw a long breath, grit our teeth and let the teacher put it on until he or she was out of breath with the exercise. And if we could take a "good licking" without whimpering or crying, and could turn and "make up a face at the teacher" when the teacher's back was turned, our position was established for all time. Of course the palm of our hand felt smarted and hot after a sound whipping, but the chances are that our hand was pulled up to twice its normal size for a day or two after the ordeal was over, but none of us ever thought of mentioning the fact to "pa" or to "ma" because the chances were excellent for a supplement of whippings in case our disgrace was found out at home.

We have just read in the newspapers concerning a forcible schoolman's am down in York county, who was taken before a local trial justice on a charge of whipping the pet son of a local nabob, and we are pleased to say the trial justice had been a boy once upon a time and had been whipped in school, and therefore he acquitted the schoolman's am of all blame, and as much as told her to go and do it again.

What else is there for a teacher to do when she has spoken to a boy several times, and reported him to the head master or to the members of the school board several times? The laws of Maine require that every child shall have a chance to get an education. To expel such a boy from school would be unjust to the boy. To endure the boy's defiance of discipline longer is impossible. In cases of this kind all a self-respecting teacher can do is to burn her bridges behind her, and waste in and give that lad a "good whaling." No matter if the sensitive parents are angry and threaten vengeance—the parents are not employed to teach public schools, and if they have failed to discipline the children at home, the teacher should take the matter in hand and finish up a job that has been neglected too long.

Why, there are more than 20,000 of us old chaps living in Maine at this minute who would think it a great pleasure to have a Normal school graduate call us out to the floor and give us a dose of the same kind of "medicine" we used to get when we were boys. We do not accept the saying: "If you spare the rod, you spoil the child," as having a universal application. We do believe there are times when physical punishment for refractory boys—and at times for girls, too—is the only certain and lasting remedy for existing evils.—Bangor News.

Nearly Overcome by Smoke.
Friday morning, Giles O. Bailey went into the basement of his building, where he runs a drug and periodical store in Bethel, to care for a furnace. It was quite dark at the time and he was obliged to carry a kerosene lamp. When he had nearly reached the furnace the last thing he can recall is that he was attacked with a fainting spell and that he pitched forward, the lamp falling from his hand. He does not remember of crawling to the door, but that is where he was found by the firemen.

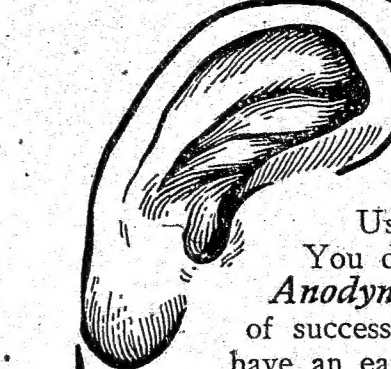

The alarm was immediately given and the fire department soon put out the flames, though not until Mr. Bailey's stock was practically ruined, and Frank Staley's barber shop and fixtures in the same building were badly damaged by water. Building and Bailey's stock were insured.

Mr. Bailey was formerly owner of the Portland Sunday Times, and after he sold the paper he lived several years in South Waterford till he in a measure recovered his health.

After Twenty-nine Years.
"For twenty-nine years I have been at intervals a great sufferer from rheumatism," writes James Hyde of Beebe, Ark. "During that time I used gallons of various kinds of liniments and oils, but got very little relief. The attacks were so bad that I was often confined to my bed helpless for weeks and months at a time."

"Not long ago, while suffering from a severe attack, a sample bottle of Sloan's Liniment was sent to me for trial. My surprise was great when I found that it gave me instant relief, and I immediately ordered two large bottles. I have used about a half of one fifty-cent bottle, and feel so well that I want everybody afflicted as I was to know what Sloan's Liniment has done for me, and I shall always have a feeling of gratitude for the man who sent me the sample bottle."

A Record Breaker.
Last Year's Sales of Hyomei, the Guaranteed Cure for Catarrh, Larger Than Ever.

So pronounced is the relief and cure following the use of Hyomei, that it has been publicly recommended by leading druggists and physicians in nearly every state and town in the country, with the result that last year's sales were larger than ever.

The fact that Hyomei is so simple and complete, and that it cures catarrh by breathing medicated air and not taking drugs into the stomach, no doubt has helped to create this widespread and rapidly increasing army of friends.

You do not risk a penny in testing the healing powers of Hyomei, for Frank Kimball proprietor of the Noyes Drug Store, will sell you a dollar outfit with a distinct guarantee to refund the money if the treatment fails to give satisfaction. 12-13

PREVENTS PNEUMONIA.
Old-Fashioned Home Remedy that is of Great Value.

In comparing statistics of the fatalities from pneumonia in different states, it is interesting to notice how favorably Maine compares with other states. This is undoubtedly due to the general use of a simple home-made remedy composed of four table-spoons of olive oil and Anodyne. Mix well together and take in teaspoonful doses. The Anodyne alone is also applied externally on the throat and chest. If taken in time, this will absolutely prevent pneumonia.

Neuralgic Anodyne is also invaluable in all aches and pains, such as neuralgia, headaches, rheumatism, toothache, bruises, sprains, cuts, chilblains, croup, sore throat, etc. A large-sized bottle costs but 25 cts., and is sold under a guarantee of satisfaction or money refunded. Made by The Twitchell-Champlin Co., Portland, Me.

BRYANT'S POND.

Almost a Serious Accident.

E. Wesley Whitman, who is working for Ralph Bacon, met with a painful and what came near being a serious accident Monday afternoon. He was yarding out sleepers on the Day lot near Pinhook when in some manner the chain caught bringing the horse to a sudden stop.

This frightened him and he reared and plunged, knocking Mr. Whitman under his heels and dragging him for some distance before he was brought to a stop. Luckily Mr. Whitman escaped without serious injuries, although it laid him up for a few days. The wonder is that he escaped with his life.

H. Alton Bacon has recently installed some new machinery in his planing mill.

Mrs. Diantha Edwards, formerly of Bryant's Pond, whose home is now in Lewiston, is regaining her health.

Ida Littlehale visited friends in town, Monday, on her way to Gould Academy for the spring term which began Tuesday.

Sheriff Cole is attending court this week.

Jerry B. Farrar is at Milton Plantation in the employ of Orin Fowler.

The syrup makers are on the move but the season has hardly commenced yet.

George G. Judkins is on the road selling nursery stock for Charles C. Chase.

Frank Lane has returned to his home in Portland. Mrs. Lane goes next week.

George L. Stephens is having the rent over his store finished up ready to occupy.

The ladies' aid give a supper this week at the Grange dining hall for the benefit of the church.

Alton Bacon has three carpenters in his employ, Leslie Abbott, Floyd Morgan and Pearl Wilson.

Two of our townsmen, Harry H. Crockett and M. M. Hathaway, are "shut in" on the murder trial.

Irvin L. Bowker and wife of Portland and Albert L. Bowker and wife of Paris passed Sunday with James L. Bowker.

Stephen Rowe, oldest resident, who has been quite ill, is now able to sit up with good prospects for full recovery.

The dramatic club propose to repeat their drama, "The Country Minister," in the near future. They will also play it at Rumford Corner.

Master Aubrey Cummings, son of Geo. H. Cummings, is quite ill with double pneumonia. An experienced nurse from Lewiston is employed.

A. J. Burckett, printer for Chase & Co., is having a few days' vacation, visiting in the meanwhile Wilton, Farmington, Waterville, Portland and Lewiston.

The high school closed March 13. The spring term will open the first of April. Mr. Cole will have charge again and the village primary will be taught by Miss Leighton.

Lottie Bryant is working for Mrs. Arthur Ricker.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hathaway visited at Eldon Ross' at Rumford Falls, last Sunday.

Mrs. Nellie B. Dudley of Dudley Cottage has returned home from her visit in Massachusetts.

Florence Day came home Saturday to spend vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Day.

Mrs. Annie E. Davis, Mrs. Bessie Billings and Mrs. Emily J. Felt visited at Danie Bryant's last Friday.

Mr. Charles Jordan and Mrs. Elmer McAllister of Oxford visited Mrs. Andrew Hill, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Scott Merrill and two daughters from Norway are visiting her father, Daniel Bryant, and other relatives.

Mrs. Flora Cole visited at D. A. Cole's last Tuesday. Mrs. Cole has been sick all winter and is just getting out again.

Mrs. Arthur Bessey and Marion went to West Sumner to Mrs. Bessey's parents', Mr. and Mrs. Moses Dowse's, last Monday.

Mrs. J. F. Eastman and son, Jamie are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Maitland Williams. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hatch of Biddeford are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cole.

The Alaska concert was postponed last Sunday evening on account of the rain and very bad traveling. It will be next Sunday evening, if nothing prevents, at 7 o'clock.

The County Commissioners were in session Wednesday. Besides attending to the usual business they decided to build an addition to the law library.

This has been under consideration for a long time and the result is gratifying to the attorneys and all others who know of the crowded condition now existing there. A large number of the law books are piled on the floor of the room.

It is planned to build an addition 28x40 feet at the rear of the building according to a plan submitted by Coombs and Gibbs of Lewiston. It is to be fireproof and built of brick.

Alcohol
not needed

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a strong drink. As now made, there is not a drop of alcohol in it. It is a non-alcoholic tonic and alternative. Ask your own doctor about your taking this medicine for thin, impure blood. Follow his advice every time. He knows.

We publish our formulas. We banish alcohol from our medicine. We urge you to consult your doctor.

Ask your doctor, "What is the first great rule of health?" Nine doctors out of ten will quickly reply, "Keep the bowels regular." Then ask him another question, "What do you think of Ayer's Pills for constipation?"

LOCKE'S MILLS.

Lorna Littlehale of Norway called on friends Sunday.

Irving Penley spent Sunday with his parents at West Paris.

Mrs. Edna Abbott is visiting her sister, Mrs. Chas. Herrick.

Mrs. E. L. Tebbetts of Auburn spent Monday and Tuesday here.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bryant of Bryant Pond visited her parents, recently.

Mrs. Cook of South Paris was the guest of Mrs. C. E. Stowell, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Farham of Bryant Pond spent Sunday with his brother.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Penley and children visited his parents at West Paris, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lane of South Paris have been recent guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Fletcher.

Arthur Stowell has been confined to his home the past week with the mumps. There are several cases in town.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Lapham of Rumford Falls have been visiting her sister, Mrs. E. Farrington and other relatives. They spent Monday at South Paris.

F. Lyle Blanchard, who has been visiting Mrs. F. A. Frost for the past week, will take a course at Gould Academy.

The V. I. S. whist party enjoyed a pleasant evening with Mr. and Mrs. E. Farrington, Thursday. Four tables were filled. The prizes were won by F. A. Frost and Mrs. T. L. Lapham, F. E. Farrington and Lyle Blanchard.

WEST SUMMER.

Frank York lost a horse recently.

Mrs. Amanda Bisbee is gaining slowly from her recent sickness.

The Baptist Ladies' Aid served a bake bean and pastry dinner at the vestry, March 18.

David Andrews recently sold his apples to R. L. Cummings of West Paris. In all probability he will not wait for advance in the price another year.

Several from the place went to West Paris Saturday evening, March 14th, to I. O. O. F. The Buckfield and South Paris lodges were invited.

S. F. Marston of Brunswick is in the place. He brought a man from Boston with him to do some inside work to the house where Dr. Marston and wife formerly lived.

The Universalist Ladies' Aid dinner of March 12th proved a success in every respect. The apron and candy tables were well patronized and the worsted quilt brought a neat little sum.

The sick ones at Ed. Thurlow's are gaining slowly.

G. E. Stephens has sold his apples to Fred Durham.

A. M. Andrews and wife spent Sunday at G. Q. Perham's.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvira Whitman visited his brother, Will, at North Paris recently.

Ethelyn Davis came home from Turner, Thursday, returning to her work Friday.

Mrs. F. E. Davis, Mrs. E. J. Felt, and Mrs. Bessie Billings visited in the Bryant neighborhood in Greenwood, Friday.

Mrs. F. E. Davis had for guests her sister, Mrs. Scott Merrill, and two children of Norway, two days last week.

Mrs. D. A. Cole and daughter, Irene, of Bryant's Pond called on the family of G. E. Stephens and G. Q. Perham, Sunday.

HER DRESSING TABLE.

Sandalwood Novelty Rivals the Classic Silver.

Powder boxes and jewel cases are shown in silver, and here again the oriental touch is all pervasive. One Japanese box is of hammered silver with a minute floral design worked out with that infinite precision that marks the best pieces wrought in old Nippon.

The decoration is so perfect that examination under a magnifying glass only makes one more impressed with its beauty. This box is sold at $35. Burmese boxes with figures from the Indian mythology are quaint and beautiful in oxidized silver. The prices run from $20 to $35.

Chinese jewel cases are the latest word in their line. To detail the designs as they should be were impossible to an occidental pen, but the cases themselves give out a breath from the land of mystery. The prices range from $50 to $125.

A striking hand mirror is shown in oxidized silver with the Japanese dragon in very bold relief. The figure covers the whole of the back and handle and is brought out to a height of half an inch. While silver will always hold its place among the furnishings of the dressing table, the present fashion in toilet articles runs to ivory and expensive woods, and it is worth noticing that nearly all of the latest designs are in oriental carving. The Japanese predominates, but there is also much in Indian, Chinese and, latest of all, Burmese. Sandalwood backs are the novelty in brushes, and, while they are comparatively sober after the brightness of gold, silver and ivory, the beautiful brown wood, with its fleeting perfume, has a charm all its own. They are carved in Chinese and Japanese floral and figure designs and range from $5 upward for odd pieces. No full sets have been shown as yet.

Tombs as Dwellings.

It is surprising to strangers to find Egyptian families occupying some of the tombs which have been excavated and abandoned. It seems very uncanny to see babies playing cheerfully about the doors of the tomb houses and to watch chickens running in and out as they do at the mud dwellings. When questioned about the tombs a dragoon said that those occupied as homes had been tombs of ordinary citizens of no value as show places for tourists. As some of them have several rooms extending into the rock and as they are cool in the hottest days of summer and warm in the cool days of winter, they are altogether desirable as homes. The Egyptians do not share the horror of dead bodies felt by Europeans. Children run about with pieces of mummies, and if they cannot dispose of them to tourists they play with them. A mummified foot or hand is so common in Luxor that one may be purchased for a few cents.

WITH THE FLOCK.

Breeding Value of Show Ram in Wool and Meat Making.

By W. J. WILLMER.

At this season of the year, with "show" animals greatly in view, the question as to their breeding value naturally recurs. A sheep man of much experience says: A ram born and bred in the stable, artificially fed from his birth and forced to a precocious development cannot transmit to its descendants the qualities of robustness necessary to a range system of sheep breeding. The English breeds do not owe their good reputation to measures taken against nature, nor have their typical qualities been produced in this way, and the practice in breeding establishments whose only object is a great development is too artificial. It is true we ought not to neglect the breeding animals destined for exportation, and we ought to feed them with the best fodder, keep their fleece in the best condition and put into practice every legitimate art to present the public the most perfect way before the public. But it seems only reasonable to expect the pure air of the field and not the heavy atmosphere of a half closed and half dark stable, to oblige them to walk and to graze, and, lastly, to always keep in mind in preparing them that the breeder produces wool and meat in God's pastures.

Carcass Competition.

Thirty-one wethers and fourteen lambs were entered in the contest of sheep carcasses at the late international show in Chicago, and prizes were awarded, as follows:

For wethers one year old and under two years—

Breed. Live Dressed wt. wt. yield.

1. Pure Southdown..... 120 82 57.88

2. Pure Southdown..... 142 82 57.88

3. Grade Southdown..... 147 84 57.14

For lambs—

1. Pure Southdown..... 97 49 50.53

2. Hampshire-Rambouillet 117 62 52.39

3. Grade Southdown..... 100 55 50.00

It will be seen that Southdowns, including one grade, won all prizes except the second prize for lambs, which went to the crossbred Hampshire-Rambouillet shown by Robert Taylor of Nebraska. The Wisconsin Agricultural college took first prize for both wethers and lambs and second prize for wethers, while the Iowa college carried off both third prizes.

The wethers made a splendid exhibit of carcasses, but the lambs, excepting the prize winners, looked a very light finished lot.

The champion carcass—Southdown lamb—brought 50 cents a pound at the sale, and prices as a whole averaged very good.

Quarter Blood Wools.

It is stated by a trade paper that fine wools are not in supply to more than meet the demand of the spinners for the season, and the demand for the coarser grades, which has been somewhat slow, particularly quarter bloods, is certain to increase. This authority says:

In the past few years—in fact, ever since the worsted fabrics became so popular—there has been a steady demand for quarter blood wools along in December, January and February that has practically cleared up merchantable supply, and no reason exists why the same demand should not materialize this winter. We feel that the unsettled markets are but a temporary matter.

STEER FEEDING.

Effect of Feed Upon Value of Manure Produced.

J. M. Bartlett of the Maine experiment station has recently reported the results of studies of the relation between fertilizing constituents in feed consumed and manure (solid and liquid) excreted by steers during digestion experiments with hay, wheat bran and cottonseed meal. His figures seem to show that in the purchase of feeds it is important to take into consideration not only their flesh forming value, but also their effect upon the value of the manure produced. Feeds like oats, tanned meal, which are rich in nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash, produce manure rich in those elements, while feeds poor in fertilizing constituents produce poor manure. If the manure is carefully saved and used it may therefore often be more economical to buy the higher priced feeds, rich in fertilizing constituents, because of the more valuable manure obtained.

Another important fact emphasized in these experiments is that a large source of fertilizing element, as well as potash, is found in the urine. Not only are the fertilizing constituents found in large quantities in the liquid portion of the manure, but they are in more available form here than in the solid excreta. The liquid portion is therefore considered the most valuable part of the manure and should be carefully saved.

Copper Chafing Dishes Popular.

Copper is the preferred metal for chafing dishes just at present, and a lovely utensil of this kind is in mission mountings. The dark oak cut in a square block is used for a knob on the cover and is guaranteed not to become hot. The corners of the frame are also set into the wood.

Did His Best.

"My goodness!" exclaimed an anxious mother. "What in the world made your face so red, Willie?"

"Johnny Jones and me had a fight," explained Willie, "and he throw'd more dirt in my face than I could swallow."

UPLANDS CELERY.

A Marsh Crop Successfully Raised on Dry Soil.

Celery we all know is a plant that likes humus laden moist land; hence people who have not tried celery state as a fact the cheerful fiction that celery cannot be raised on a market garden soil much above the water level.

Having raised the sweetest and crispest celery in our back yard (which has been tilled for a century or so as a vegetable garden), we had no hesitancy in planting various varieties

at No. 1 experiment station of the Long Island railroad, having been assured it would not even grow, but we took second prize at the county fair with this celery.

No. 1 station, according to the United States geological survey, is 112 feet above the sea level; therefore it required very little nerve to plant a small patch of celery at station No. 2.

Although the soil is somewhat lighter, the altitude is only sixty-four feet above sea level. Humus is absolutely entirely lacking, caused mainly by the annual "forest fires," due to cheerful neglect of prevention by neighbors.

By burning brush to the north of this section of the island at present given over mainly to cord wood industry.

A shallow ditch was dug, humus was furnished by barnyard manure, celery plants set out, and occasionally, or, to be more exact, semioccasionally, the irrigation sprayers were turned on the celery plants, and, as is the ambition of all plant life, they grew, and station No. 2 turned out celery that holds its own in competition with that grown anywhere, writes H. B. Fuller in American Cultivator.

We shall continue to grow celery at stations Nos. 1 and 2, as it sells well, sells well and makes an excellent variety.

New Tobacco Varieties.

It is an established fact that there are great areas in the United States not now growing tobacco which have the soil, climatic and other conditions suited for growing valuable tobacco, and which for the welfare of American agriculture should supply the demand of the manufacturers. One of the most important phases of the development of these undeveloped sections is the production of varieties of tobacco adapted to their soil and climatic conditions.

The change of seed from one tobacco growing region to different soil and climatic conditions, particularly from the south to the north, is likely to result in the breaking up of the type of the variety and the appearance of plants with characteristics very different from the established type.

From the established type, new varieties of plants can be propagated by using self fertilized seed, and uniform varieties of tobacco can be secured by continued selection of the best individual plants for seed production.

The use of Florida grown and imported Sumatra seed for growing in the Connecticut valley during the past few years is a good illustration of the effect of a change of seed. The plants grown from this foreign grown seed were extremely variable, individual plants of new and unknown types of tobacco appearing in the fields. The seeds of desirable individual plants of these types were saved and used, free from cross fertilization, and several valuable new varieties have been secured adapted to the conditions in the Connecticut valley and uniformly coming true to type year after year.—A. D. Shamel.

Damage by Field Mice.

Blackberries, raspberries, grapes, currants, gooseberries and strawberries are often badly damaged by field mice, and when the animals are abundant many plantations are ruined. Strawberries are especially liable to injury because of winter mulching, and also because the plants themselves furnish excellent food and shelter for the animals.

Fallen leaves in autumn and snow in winter drift and collect along rows of blackberry, raspberry, gooseberry and currant bushes and furnish cover for mice, which work along the rows and gnaw the green stems, and when dead canes are left uncultivated and weeds are permitted to grow up among them, the resulting fangle adds much to the liability of attack. Winter mulching of small fruits also increases the danger, and if practiced the utmost care should be taken to clean surrounding areas.—David E. Lautz.

Manure For Asparagus Beds.

A heavy application of barnyard manure any time during the winter will be an advantage to asparagus beds after the old stalks and other trash have been well cleaned off.

Everett's Second Trial

the past 18 years and had not known of its exploding. Has also whittled it. Was one of the coroner's jury at the inquest on the body of Edgar Radcliffe. Was at mine next day after the explosion and found hole in the ground where the dynamite house said to have been.

The hole was 10 or 12 inches deep. Was there when the earth was examined. Did not see any splinters of wood in the hole. Saw parts of a bat near the hole, parts of boards, joist and other things scattered around on the earth. Mr. Merrill recognized a clasp shown him as he had picked up. Saw the stove some distance from hole. There was some excelsior and dynamite in the stove.

Other dynamite there that morning, two parts of sticks were six or eight feet from the hole. The bar, State exhibit No. 6, was shown Mr. Merrill which he recognized as being one he picked up. Four fragments of the flesh and bone northeast of the hole in the ground, also pieces of felt were picked up. Remembered seeing two blood spots south of the hole.

During the coroner's inquest no clothing was removed from the body. The throat was examined. Didn't remember that the cut was specially mentioned at the hearing.

Cross examined. Stove was a smallish cast iron one. Spot was pointed out to him where Radcliffe's body lay. Was a slight depression there. Found no other substance in hole but what was below the turf.

Asked about dropping dynamite into drilled hole, said they were about 2 1/2 inches and that the paper was removed from the dynamite before dropping.

Moses P. Stiles of Norway visited the Crocker hill mine, Monday, after the explosion. Found Mr. Everett there. Heard him make a statement regarding the explosion. Said there had been things stole there. Told of following a man around the night before the explosion and also the story of following the man on the night of the explosion.

Mr. Stiles said that Everett stated in his presence that he knew the party was Ed. Radcliffe.

Cross examined. Went to the mine with Col. Dill as he was going there and wanted to talk military matters with him.

Col. Elliott C. Dill of Portland was at the mine Monday following the explosion. Saw Everett there at door of the mill. Mr. Everett showed him about the place and told him the story of the explosion. Said that the man was Ed. Radcliffe. Asked to tell what Everett told him about the affair. Col. Dill related the story substantially as it had been told by previous witnesses about following and fastening him in.

Cross examined. Col. Dill stated that the recollection of what was said that day was not very distinct as he had not refreshed his memory since that day.

James L. Chase of Paris was a member of the coroner's jury. Heard Everett make a statement as to the man he was Ed. Radcliffe I looked in the building he kicked and swore so.

Charles A. Hows, a blacksmith of Norway was employed on the mine property at Crocker hill, beginning work in May or June. Has done other work besides blacksmithing while working there. At one time boarded with Everett.

Was working at Crystal Cut the week of the explosion, was boarding at home that week, coming to work with a team and keeping horse in stable with Everett's. Was using dynamite in the work at the cut Thursday. Everett had brought them dynamite either Wednesday or Thursday. Ordered three sticks the big dynamite house to go to.

Everett later brought the dynamite from direction of big house.

Everett left dynamite near where they were working. Left the works there Thursday about four o'clock. First heard of the explosion the next morning.

Saw Everett and Gibbs there when he came with his team Friday morning. Heard Everett speak of the explosion, said Ed. got blown up there the night before. Previous to this Everett had told him of Radcliffe being there. Everett had spoken several times of Ed. being there at the mine. Told him once that Ed. was there and had supper with him and another time that he was there and wanted to borrow some money.

Had also spoken several times of Ed. having been there the night before.

Mr. Merrill told of what Mr. Everett had said about following the man to the small dynamite house and of his going and fastening the doors. Stated that he thought it was Ed. Radcliffe.

Friday following the explosion Everett told him of following a man the evening of the 12th about the premises down into the county road and leaving him there headed towards Colby's. Everett told once of Ed. being over there in an intoxicated condition and that he had to take him home.

Howe stated that he had bought whiskey of Everett more than once. It was delivered to him at various places from stated he had not been in the little dynamite house but that he had looked in. Had seen dynamite in there. Everett had asked him to make some staples for by battery. The wires and battery were found after the explosion.

At 8.30 or 9 o'clock Friday morning was set to watch mill. While coroner's jury was there was set to hunt for left to go to a quest before dinner. Had before going. Was to watch the property while he was gone. On Everett's return went up on hill with Everett and places there. Saw three blood spots. Might have been pools of 16 ft. 8 in. from the north end of the hole in ground. Before completing the search for foot had gone about all over the ground for quite a distance. Didn't find it but found some fragments.

Howe stated that Friday the knife was found, James Gibbs speaking of it first. The eagle to the damper was found soon after. Everett said when he saw the knife that must have been Ed's knife. What you suppose he could have been doing with that? Before knife was picked up could see most the whole of it. The knife had three or four inches apart after picking up knife Everett suggested the big blade of the knife was open when picked up.

The handle and hilt of the blade were bloody. Exploded some of the dynamite left at Crystal Cut that night. Found identified the piece shown him as one that he found.

Cross examined. Howe stated that age was 30 years. Had worked dynamite two or three months. Thursday. Friday morning found the out as it was left. Had found it about three weeks with him. Had worked there 15 or 16 months. Stated that he did not see him with him. Said that all he did was there that he bought it there. Might have had 3 or 5 quarts in there. Didn't say that he had seen him there. Didn't see use in road first time looked. Attention was first called to fuse in road four or five days after the explosion.

Mr. Swasey asked him if he put the fuse there. "No, sir."

"Do you know who put that there?" "No, sir."

Howe stated that he didn't pick it up.

Questioned regarding the knife and other things about the premises he explained substantially the same as in direct examination, and some other particulars were also brought out by Mr. Swasey. There was some other dynamite in the little dynamite house.

The State is bringing its evidence down to more detail than at the last October. What is being left to be done that can have bearing on the case. Not as many witnesses have been summoned as in the previous trial. There are a few new ones who will testify but some that testified last fall will not be heard at this time.

The defense worked out a good point Wednesday afternoon in the cross examination of Charles Howe on the fact that though Mr. Howe had found the place where the fuse was found a rock on it soon after the trial but Royal Arch Mason's Banquet.

A gathering of eighty Royal Arch Masons met in their hall last Thursday to exalt three candidates. Most Excellent District Deputy Grand High Priest W. J. Dorman, B. S. T. White, was present as visiting officer. Three companions were exalted to the R. A. C. degree. After work a banquet was enjoyed. The speaking under the efficient leadership of most excellent Past Grand High Priest H. D. Smith as toastmaster was something to be remembered for a life time. Remarks of a general nature were made by Rev. J. H. Little and Arthur Forbes of South Paris and visiting officer Dorman. Toastmaster then called upon companion Clarence Smith to close the banquet. And when we say we had a treat it is putting it mildly indeed. For twenty minutes he held the entire body of companions entranced. Poetry hardly describes it, the whole speech was a poem. The companions were held spellbound by the eloquence and clear, low pure voice of the speaker, which reached every companion, as the loss of a word was lost that was regretted. The breathless quiet that prevailed was only relieved by a deep sigh when the picture was finished. Companion Smith is one who seldom speaks in public, but when he does he makes up in quality what he lacks in quantity. May he live long and not suffer too much from his sad loss of sight.

The company was inspected, Thursday evening, March 12, by Brig. Gen. Chas. E. Davis, inspector general of the State of Maine, accompanied by Samuel T. A. Bell of the United States Army. There were 50 men present, two were absent with leave and three privates, Fred C. Lovering, E. W. Andrews, and Elmer C. Smith without leave. The company has been recruited to 61 men as required by the law, being about the first if not the first company of the State to comply with this act. The inspector complimented the company highly on their work and stated that the company was made of the finest material of any company he had seen.

The next inspection will be April 2. This will be a United States inspection and every member must be present. Capt. Wheeler, the son of fighting Joe Wheeler, will be the inspecting officer. The gallery will be open to the public with no admission.

Monday, March 23, the company will hold its general gallery match at the Opera house. There will be two teams of 30 men each. The captain of the first team will be First Sgt. W. P. Marston and of the second Company Inspector Sgt. Guy F. Stevens. The gallery will be open to the public.

These two teams will have an all day match at the Company's range, Patriots' day, April 20. Dinner will be furnished. The new full dress uniforms are about to be issued and members will be fitted with them, March 23.

The record of the indoor shoot now going on shows that there are in the company 32 experts, 7 sharpshooters, 15 marksmen, 2 third class men and 4 fourth class men. The figure of merit this week is 147 plus.

Consumption.

Its Cause and Suggested Means of Recovery.

Consumption is not always an inherited disease, and a large percentage of cases may be attributed to the following causes:

First, defective digestion. Second, imperfect nutrition as a result of the first. Third, the accumulation of morbid product in the lungs as the result of imperfect nutrition, and this in turn breaks down the function of respiration and consumption is an established disease.

The first step toward a cure is to restore the function of nutrition, and to this end nothing in the world excels Vinol.

It is for this reason we want every person in Norway to know about our delicious cod liver preparation, "Vinol," which is far superior to old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions because it is made by a scientific, extractive and concentrating process from fresh cod livers, combination with peptonate of iron all the medicinal, healing, body building element of cod liver, but no oil.

In pulmonary diseases, it nourishes the body, increases vigor, checks the cough and often mitigates the disease. As a strength-giver for old people, delicate children, weak, run down persons, and after sickness, Vinol is unexcelled.

We ask Norway people to try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it does not give satisfaction. Frank P. Stone, Druggist, Norway, Me. 21

Proof is inexpressible that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound carries women safely through the Change of Life.

Read the letter Mrs. E. Hanson, 304 E. Long St., Columbus, Ohio, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I was passing through the Change of Life, and suffered from nervousness, headaches, and other annoying symptoms. My doctor told me that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was good for me, and since taking it I feel so much better, and I can again do my own work. I never forgot to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me during this trying period."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration.

Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has a free advice department.

FRYEBURG.

She Could Cook.

The Bangor Commercial has a little story to tell of Anna Barrows, the young lady who conducts a three days' course of lectures and demonstrations at the University of Maine. Miss Barrows is a Maine woman, a native of beautiful Fryeburg, where her childhood was passed. Her father, a man of great social and political influence in western Maine, much in public life, a member of the State senate of which body he was president.

Several years ago Mr. and Mrs. Barrows entertained a party of gentlemen at their beautiful home in Fryeburg at 6 o'clock dinner. Among the guests was the governor of the State, with several State officials and men prominent in affairs. The guests were ushered into the dining-room and two little girls, we should think nine and eleven years old respectively, were standing as waiters. As the guests were seated Mrs. Barrows said:

"I am pleased to say to you that every dish on this table has been made and cooked and the table laid by my two little daughters."

And what a table! How it was loaded; how inviting it looked; how artistic was its setting! And how many were the compliments the little housekeeper received. One of those little housekeepers was Anna Barrows—formerly chief of the Boston Cooking School, and editor of The New England Kitchen Magazine, now connected with faculty of Columbia University, New York City, an instructor in cooking. She is recognized as the best demonstrator and lecturer upon subjects of domestic economy in this country. Her fame extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Rev. E. P. Wilson and daughter are to leave for their vacation about the first of April.

Mrs. Frank Buzzell and mother, Mrs. Harmon, are thinking of returning to Fryeburg.

Clayton Pike paid a flying visit to his father, C. W. Pike, and persuaded him to go to Boston with him.

Laura Smart of Fryeburg is ill at the home of Postmaster Smart, her brother, on Main street, Lewiston.

Edward Brackett and wife, who have been spending the winter in Waltham, Mass., have returned home.

Charles Farrington and Fred Davis are on the jury at Paris, E. E. Hastings, esq., and John Phillips are also attending.

The new school board consisting of Messrs. Nichols, Berry, James and Mrs. Lougee are busy outlining work for the spring term.

It is reported that H. H. Burbank has purchased the Merrill house on Elm street and will soon move here from Conway Center.

An entertainment for the benefit of the library is in preparation. Mrs. Wentworth and Alice Glines, the committee on music, drama, history and travel are working on the program. Miss Gordon, president of the club, has been suffering from grip. Her father has also been sick.

The Athletic Exhibition at Academy Hall, Thursday evening, passed off with credit to pupils and instructors. Towels exhibition of slack wire walking was very well done. Jordan led in bar work, vaulting, etc., and the several others did their work easily and well. Among them were Arthur Newman, Gordon Weston, Herbert Wentworth, Sumner Kerr and Arthur Potter. The Indian club drill by the young men was particularly fine and without error. The wand drill by young ladies was very pretty and also quite perfect. The mock drill and the clowns furnished amusement.

The boxing was endured by opponents and audience.

Plain, Everyday Affairs.

Be Clean All the Time.

Spring will soon be here, and with it comes the spring housecleaning. It seems to me it is better to clean houses as it gets dirty. If a room gets dirty and needs papering and repainting, it is better to do it when it is needed, instead of waiting until the usual spring or fall housecleaning time—a time dreaded by every member of the family.

It is much easier to clean one room at a time than to turn the whole house upside down at once. Then you don't have time for anything else. You can not even call on a neighbor. If you have plenty of time yourself, you are in fear of finding her cleaning house or all tired out and in no humor for company. I like the idea of cleaning in this way.

Then your house is clean all the time and by the old way it is clean only twice a year. Of course, I do not say take the coldest day in winter or the warmest day in summer, but plan your work ahead. Let my work all planned out a good many days ahead, and I have a family of nine to work for all the time. I like to keep up with my work, too, and I think the children should be taught to engage in light work that they can do without hurting themselves. Whether boys or girls, they should all learn to do work, outdoors and in the house.

I think the farm has many advantages over the city. You can have everything so much nicer than your city friend. Just think of buying your apples and potatoes and having to eat baker's bread and cake! Some people like it, but I do not. I much prefer doing my own cooking and taking it in my own hands. It is the pleasure of picking the berries to fill my own cans. If you live on a farm you can get a good meal at any time, and if you need to get one in a hurry you do not have to run to the grocery store to get your butter, milk, eggs, a good supply of canned fruit and pickles, and with all such things at hand it is a short task to get ready a right good meal, good enough for a king, but none too good for a farmer.

Towels.

In buying towels the old bleached variety is considered the best. They cost a little more than the others, for the reason that the damask, buck or orash has been bleached out of doors, instead of by the quicker chemicals used in factories, but it will outwear everything else.

A few old-fashioned people still cling to the fine damask towel, but the majority of folks demand the buck. Fingert towels are almost as extinct as the duck. All towels are hemmed at the ends. All towels, with or without drawn work borders. There is a great demand for hand embroidered, even some of the plainest buck towels showing a row of irregular embroidery back of the hem.

The vogue of the hand towel with scallop embroidered edge is on the increase. This was brought about by the introduction of the stamped towel ready for embroidery, and now most house hold linen departments carry the ready-made article in both damask and buck.

There continues to be a demand for the stamped article, though by many authorities it is thought that many women prefer to select their own linen in this style of embroidery, as they have a greater variety of styles and qualities from which to make a selection. The ends of the towel may be scalloped and worked with solid buttonhole stitch. There may be a design in eyelet and French embroidery above the scallop on one end and the scallop with the initials on the other end.

The Finger Nails.

It is astonishing what refinement it gives to an appearance if the finger nails are well cultured. English women, as a rule, do not bestow much time on polishing their nails, but they keep them well trimmed.

A Scotch saying is a man had better never been born than have his nails on Sunday shorn. We know the old-fashioned rule, but cut them on Monday for health, on Tuesday for wealth, on Wednesday for a letter, on Thursday for something better, on Friday for a wife, on Saturday for a long life, and on Sunday for evil.

Nails are supposed to grow a thirty-second of an inch in a week, an inch and a half in a year. The nail of the thumb and the little finger grow the most rapidly. They grow faster in summer time than in winter, those of the right hand faster than the left, and four times as fast as the toe nails. Illness and grief affect the nails.

People with broad nails have gentle, timid, bashful natures, those with narrow nails are said to be ambitious and quarrelsome; small nails indicate littleness of mind and conceit; round nails come to lovers of knowledge; white marks augur indigestion.

Lemon juice makes nails smooth and removes stains. Have lemon juice and salt on the washing stand and dip the fingers and rub cold cream into the cuticles at night.

Rumford Falls is showing a lot of interest in the proposition to establish there a company of the National Guard.

Baseball Starting Up.

Arthur McPherson With the American League Team for the Boston Journal.

The real "dementia Americana" is attacking New England, and every "fan" will be on the athletic seat until the clicking of the turnstile ushers in the opening of the baseball season.

If you can't be on the spot, the next best thing is to hear from some one who is there, and, realizing this, The Boston Journal has Arthur McPherson, its baseball expert, to Little Rock with the American League team. His daily letters are intimate accounts of the daily work and life led by the players during the trying-out for positions on the big team, and he will watch carefully the work of the new recruits who are expected to infuse new life into the team this spring.

Mr. McPherson offers to answer any questions sent to him at Little Rock, and he expects that followers of the game will take advantage of this opportunity to get firsthand knowledge of the men who will represent Boston this summer. He is accompanied by an expert photographer, whose work helps to make The Journal's account of the training season complete in every respect.

Thomas Burke, the well-known authority on track athletics, will contribute special articles during the season, and all departments of sport will be covered by a staff of able writers, all of whom intend to keep the sporting page of the Journal up to the high standard of popularity it has attained in the past.

The new dormitory will occupy substantially the spot of the old dormitory, built in 1882 and burned a half dozen years ago. The proposed building will be sixty-six feet front with two wings running back forty-eight feet. The arrangement of the interior of each wing is the same, in fact they are duplicates. Each floor contains three studies and a sleeping room connecting with the front study.

The first and third floors, in addition, contain a study room. On the second floor in place of the store room there is a lavatory, containing closets, baths, etc., sufficiently large to accommodate all floors, in the part connecting wings, on the first floor is the large reception room entered from the corridors on each side. On the second floor are two studies with alcoves and a passage way in the rear connecting the two main corridors.

On the third floor are four studies or two studies with sleeping rooms.

The basement of the new wing will contain a kitchen and laundries; the main part the boiler and heating apparatus, with place for fuel; the north wing is for storage.

The building is so arranged that of the twenty-eight study rooms, eighteen will be corner rooms and of the remaining ten rooms four will be front rooms. It is hoped to have the building in readiness for the fall term.

Friday evening at the Columbia hotel the Bridgton Academy Alumni association of Portland held its 11th annual reunion. There were 75 in attendance.

Supper was served at 7 o'clock, the following being seated at the tables: Herbert J. Chase, B. A., '86, Rumford Falls; Helen M. Staples, Harvard; Princeton; E. G. Baseball Starting Up.

Arthur McPherson With the American League Team for the Boston Journal.

The real "dementia Americana" is attacking New England, and every "fan" will be the victim of the mania soon. The clicking of the turnstile ushers in the opening of the baseball season.
If you can't be on the spot, the next best thing is to hear from some one who is there, and realizing this, The Boston Journal has sent Arthur McPherson, its baseball expert to Little Rock with the American League team. His daily letters are intimate accounts of the daily work and life led by the players during the trying-out for positions on the big team, and he will watch carefully the work of the new recruits who are expected to infuse new life into the team this spring. Mr. McPherson offers to answer any questions sent to him at Little Rock, and he expects that followers of the game will take advantage of this opportunity to get firsthand knowledge of the men who will represent Boston this summer. He is accompanied by an expert photographer, whose work helps to make The Journal's account of the training season complete in every respect.
Thomas Burke, the well-known authority on track athletics, will contribute special articles during the season, and all departments of sport will be covered by a staff of able writers, all of whom intend to keep the sporting page of the Journal up to the high standard of popularity it has attained in the past.

The new dormitory will occupy substantially the spot of the old dormitory, built in 1882 and burned a half dozen years ago. The proposed building will be sixty-six feet front with two wings running back forty-eight feet. The arrangement of the interior of each wing is the same, in fact they are duplicates. Each floor contains three studies and a sleeping room connecting with the front study.
The first and third floors, in addition, contain a storeroom. On the second floor in place of the storeroom there is a lavatory, containing closets, baths, etc., sufficiently large to accommodate all floors, in the part connecting wings, on the first floor is the large reception room entered from the corridor on each side. On the second floor are two studies with alcoves and a passage way in the rear connecting the two main corridors. On the third floor are four studies or two studies with sleeping rooms.
The basement of the new wing will contain a kitchen and laundry; the main part the boiler and heating apparatus, with place for fuel; the north wing is for storage.
The building is so arranged that of the twenty-eight study rooms, eighteen will be corner rooms and of the remaining ten rooms four will be front rooms. It is hoped to have the building in readiness for the fall term.

Friday evening at the Columbia hotel the Bridgton Academy Alumni association of Portland held its 11th annual reunion. There were 75 in attendance. NORTH WATERFORD.

A Sudden Death.
George M. Knight of Bismestown died very suddenly, Saturday night about midnight, with heart failure. He called his wife saying he had a pain and she got him medicine, which relieved him, and left the room for only a few minutes,
when she returned he was gone.

Mr. Knight was born in Gorham, Me., 67 years ago. He came to Waterford when a boy and has lived there nearly all of his life. He was by occupation a farmer, was a member of the Congregational church; in politics a Republican.
He was tax collector for the town of Waterford a good many years, had been selectman and held other responsible offices. His life was that of a good and upright citizen in all respects.

Besides his wife he leaves three daughters and one son, Harriette Knight of Norway, Edith Knight of Waterford and Raymond Knight, who is in the University of Maine, a member of the graduating class of 1908.

The funeral was from his late home
Tuesday afternoon, his pastor, Rev. G.
P. Fuller, being the attending clergyman. The large amount of flowers told of many sympathizing friends.

pine for box boards on the so called Guptil lot, for Harry Brown of North Waterford. Brown's teams are hauling it out to his mill at Waterford.

Elmer Saunders visited the cook at the Paris Co's camp, Saturday. Master Elmer enjoyed his visit very much and especially the dinner, which he said was equal in quality and variety to the ordinary hotel bill of fare. Col. Grover's return with him to spend Sunday at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews and baby Edith, Mr. and Mrs. Isalah Hazleton, Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Flint and granddaughter, Mildred Rugg, Mrs. O. H.

Inman and Mrs. C. G. Beckler, recently.

GREENWOOD.

The Free Silver Man.
A certain person working in the woods not far from here but a resident of South Paris, won the above title in a singular and original manner. Calling at our local store a few days ago a ten cent piece attracted his attention on the counter.

The proprietor knowing the money was there kept his eye on the person referred to, although busy in another part of the store. The gentleman put his thumb on the coin in question, pushed it to the end of the showcase when he definitely transferred it to his vest pocket.
Asked him what he proposed to do about the ten cents he had lifted he denied the allegation and walked away.

As the evidence was all in and the prisoner at the bar had nothing but his word for defence he is adjudged guilty by all-knowing the particulars. Hence the title of free silver man, one that will probably stick to him for sometime.

Stillman Cole has sold his two year-old colt to Forest Emery.

The Ladies' Benefit association gave a progressive peanut party and box supper Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Cole went to Lemington, Wednesday where they will visit for a short time with Mrs. Cole's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Penley.

Charles Verrill went to Rumford Falls,
Sunday, where he will put in a few days disposing of thirty or forty barrels of apples hauled there some time ago.

Ten degrees below zero last Tuesday morning and seventy-eight above Friday.
Both figures show extremes for the season, the former of cold and the latter of heat.

Apologies of the cold weather Tuesday morning we saw our first crow on that day and some of the men at work for the Paris Co. discovered a woodchuck some distance from the woods and had great sport pelting him with snowballs.

A fairly good crowd took in the masquerade ball at this place and had a royal good time. Some exceptionally appropriate costumes were in evidence and some extremely comical ones.

Carroll Bacon took first honors for gentlemen and Bertha Cummings and Alice Dunham for the ladies.

Allan Cole is the latest person to be added to the list of injured among the crew of the Paris Mfg. Co. His hand was caught between two logs in such a manner that the skin and flesh was lacer-ated badly, the cords and bones of the hand and wrist being plainly visible where the flesh was torn away.

While harnessing his horse a few days ago Frank Hayes received a severe injury to an eye. The animal flung his head around hitting Mr. Hayes in one corner of the eye. It is supposed that a blood vessel was ruptured by the accident. The eye is in bad condition and some fear is entertained that the sight may be destroyed.

While we are not well posted in regard to the habits of the denizens of our fields, forests and streams, our curiosity was considerably aroused by the sight of a good sized frog in the water tub at the foot of the farm hill. It was confessed that we had always supposed and do yet that the frog buried himself in the mud and remained in a comatose condition for the winter. This being the case and we await proof to the contrary. Who was Mr. Frog, falling on a zero morning in a water tub? He certainly was there very much alive, and just as plump as he would be in August, as several persons can attest.

A special town meeting has been called for Monday, Mar. 23, to take action on matters omitted at the annual meeting.

E. H. Brown of Providence, R. I., has been here nearly three months, buying and selling apples. He has shipped from this vicinity more than 6,000 barrels.

Wm. F. Jordan, after a severe and painful illness of several months, passed away Monday morning, Mar. 9, aged 47 years. He was buried from his late home, Wednesday, Rev. A. W. Pottle conducting the service. Mr. Jordan had been married twenty-four years, and leaves a widow and seven children, also his parents and four brothers and two sisters.

Saturday evening, Mar. 14th, about 40 of the members of Neziascot Lodge of
I. O. O. F., visited the lodge at West Paris, confering the first degree of four candidates, after which a bountiful supper was served and enjoyed by all. They left on the return trip one with good eloquence and a beautiful moonlight night, making a very pleasant evening.

Lincoln Plantation at the annual meeting elected the following officers:
Moderator—W. H. Hart.
Sergeant—Calvin T. Fox.
Assessors—Lewis Olson, E. S. Bennett, Alden Farnham.

Supreme Judicial Court.

Oxford's town meeting was held Monday, March 16, and in some respects reminded one of a meeting of the New Woman's reform club. There was much useless talk regarding an appropriation for Memorial Day and the Free Kindergarten, and the town voted $20 to $400 to repair town house and put it in shape for entertainments was promptly voted down. The town's vote on road commissioner was disappointing to people who like to travel good roads. The school question was thoroughly thrashed out by Julius Fuller, Freeman Andrews, Oliver Coy, Bennie Pratt and H. H. Hall.

Meeting was called to order by clerk Roscoe Staples and election of members for 1907 proceeded with. Whole number of votes cast 151, necessary for choice 76. A. D. Fuller had 73, J. W. Hunting, 78 and was elected. There was no opposition for clerk and Roscoe Staples was unanimously elected.

Report of town officers for 1907 was accepted. Voted to lay articles from 4 to 10 on table and raise money before election of town officers.

Selection, assessors and overseers of poor—J. W. Hunting, W. W. Edwards, Town Treas.—Roscoe Staples. Town voted to furnish bond for Repaired the board to serve three years—Charles E. Starbird.

Prize of labor of H. H. Hall, Town Agent—J. W. Hunting, Auditor—H. J. Hall, Postmaster—W. A. Chaplin. Constable for Oxford—Harry Goodyear. Truant officers—Harry Goodyear, Steven J. son.

"Burning orange peel will dissipate the odor of tobacco smoke in a room." The Norway women who attend town meetings may realize the surplus tobacco smoke next year by this pleasant and agreeable method. Begin early to gather together the orange peel for according to all accounts no small amount will suffice.

William T. Noyes of Highland, Cal., has sent his cousin, Helen Noyes, a box of oranges from his grove. He raises a large amount of oranges. Mr. and Mrs. Noyes and daughter spent some time in Maine last summer. Some of these oranges are marked the pine cone brand. It is fair to presume that Mr. Noyes' native pine cone state has left its impress on him after being in the land of fruit and flowers all these years. We tested the Pine Cones and they are all right, in fact, one of the best flavored of oranges.

HIRAM.

House Come Near Burning.

The farm buildings of R. N. Lowell came near burning, Wednesday, which caused quite a scare. Lowell was away in the woods and no one at home but his wife and a little granddaughter three years old. As Mrs. Lowell was passing through the wooded area she heard a crackling sound and stepped outside to investigate. In looking up she saw the oil was on fire. Leaving the little girl in the house she started for the nearest neighbor Stearns. She ran to the lane and screamed. Mrs. Stearns was also away in the woods. Mrs. Stearns heard her cries and rushed to the door, and asked where the fire was.

Mrs. Lowell pointed to the roof of the house and said she would run for the Moultons, which was one-half mile. Mrs. Stearns thinking their house was on fire rushed back into the house and running to the front door which had a screen door and had not been opened for the winter, and being frozen in she put her weight against it breaking through, she began to throw things out of the house. In the mean time she went to see if some one was not coming. She saw Moulton's folks running their team into Lowell's, then she discovered the roof of Lowell's buildings was on fire.

In the time Mrs. Lowell had run half a mile back to Moulton's and reached there just as they were starting with their team for Hiram village. They reached the burning building in a few minutes and with quick hard work they succeeded in putting out the fire after burning a hole ten by four feet in the roof.

Herbert Moulton has been to Orono recently.

Mrs. Charlotte True from Boston is visiting her father, I. S. Lowell.

Fred Jameson, whose wife died recently at the Maine General hospital, is stopping at A. G. Stearns', also his son Freddie.
